SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

MADISON, November 22.—The Supreme Court met this morning and decided two important railway suits. The first was that brought by the Milwaukee and St. Paul company against the State to restrain the State treasurer from enforcing the license tax within a prescribed time. The company withholds the payment of about $14,000, claiming that their license tax should be computed upon each separate line where the line is earning 3 per cent of the gross receipts, but refuses to pay 4 per cent upon lines which only and third class, or a lower rate of taxation. The Supreme Court decided against the company, holding that the State can't be sued except for a claim which, if just, would be a debt against the State, and for which payment has first been refused by the Legislature. The other decision was that of Graham et al against the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul company, for excess of freight charges for transportation of wheat cargoes from Mascooda to Milwaukee. Suit was brought under the Potter law, and before it was repealed, under that law the penalty for overcharge was treble the amount of the excess, and the actions brought therefore were quasi-criminal. The court holds that the repeal of the law deprived such actions of their criminal character, but there still remained the right to commence a law action, before the law was repealed, and recover the amount of excess after the repeal of the law. The company demurs to paying the amount of the excess over, were overruled in the court below, and the order is sustained in the Supreme Court.

MRS. CHRISTIANITY INSANE.

Picked Up in the Streets of Washington in a Demented Condition.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The janitor at the Police court building was surprised late last night by the apparition of a woman, bareheaded, in her night dress, rushing madly up Louisiana avenue, toward Sixth street. He overtook her just as she was entering the law office of Messrs Cook & Cole, and to his amazement, discovered that it was Mrs. Christianity, the defendant in the celebrated divorce suit.

MRS. LINCOLN.

The Widow of the Martyred President Poor and in Want.

New York, November 22.—Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, the widow of our first martyred President, has been in this city for nearly two months submitting to medical treatment at the hands of Dr. Lewis A. Sayre. It is said that she has needed the means to secure the proper attention of nurses, and that the $3,000 pension granted her by Congress is utterly inadequate to supply her wants in her present condition. Cyrus W. Field has been applied to to take an interest in her case, and he announces that he was not directly exerting his influence to secure the passage of a bill through Congress to increase the amount of her pension to a figure which will render the remaining years of her life as comfortable as her sickly condition will permit. A Times reporter had a long conversation with Dr. Sayre this evening in regard to the condition and actual needs of Mrs. Lincoln.

The doctor was very indignant at the reports which had been circulated to the effect that his patient is insane. "She is no more insane than you or I are," he said, "and if you could talk with her an hour you would agree with me. The poor woman has had trouble enough to drive many a strong man crazy."

CORONER'S VERDICT.

Ed Maxwell Fell From the Court-House Steps and Broke His Neck.

St. Paul, Nov. 22.—Nothing has been heard from Durand, the scene of the Maxwell lynching till to-day, when the following dispatch was received: "The body of Ed Maxwell was cut down after hanging about half an hour, and an inquest was held, with the following verdict: 'Came to his death by falling from the court house steps and breaking his neck.' The body was taken in charge by the town authorities and given a decent burial."

THIERS, THE FORGER.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Thiers, the forger, captured here voluntarily accompanied Sheriff Blackman to Kenosha. He states that he is indebted to friends in the sum of $30,000, and expects to be sent to the penitentiary for life; that he has wandered about the streets, night and day, for a month, and did not sleep one night

FOUL MURDER.

DOWNER'S GROVE, Ill., November 22.—One of the most cold-blooded murders perpetrated in this section for some time occurred about three miles north of here. The exact time of the occurrence is not known, as the victim was living all alone in a small house in an out of the way place some distance from any other house.

His name was Reynolds Kenyon. He was not discovered until last night, when a man from Fallersburg called at the house to purchase some potatoes of him, and seeing his little boy to the door to inform the man of his errand, and the boy being unable to gain admission or rouse the man, he went himself, and trying the door, found it open, and on going in found the old man lying flat on his face in a pool of blood, and an axe leaning against the wall which proved to be the instrument of death.

The Fallersburg man, a consultation, they decided not to disturb anything until the coroner arrives, and it is not known whether he was injured otherwise than having a large gash in the back of his head. He was lying face downward in a full dress, which showed that it was done in the daytime or evening. His pipe had fallen at his side, its contents half consumed, and his position indicated that he had fallen from the edge of the bed.

A WICKED WIDOW.

FOND DU LAC, November 22.—There is intense excitement in the town of Alto, this county, over the case of double poisoning reported last night. The coroner's inquest over the bodies of the victims, Mr. Lockhart and son, is still in progress, the court-room being crowded all day. Considerable indignation is expressed, and fears of lynching are entertained, but the sex of the murderers will probably save her from this. The evidence and information show that trouble has been brewing some time between Mrs. Lockhart and her son and Mrs. Vernore, the murderer, over a legacy left by friends in Holland. Mrs. Vernore is a widow, whose husband was accidentally killed last summer. The evidence shows that last Sunday Mrs. Vernore took a small kettle of soup to her mother, Mrs. Lockhart, of which the old lady, aged 90, and her son partook, dying in less than two hours. The verdict of the jury is not yet known.

STILL ADVANCING.

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 22.—It is announced on good authority that the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul company will, early in the spring, commence the work of extending their road from Monroe, Wis., and also from Farley, west to this city. This will be part of their grand line from Milwaukee to Council Bluffs.

The Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk Co., of Cham, Switzerland, the largest manufacturers of Condensed Milk in the world, having discovered a superior method of combining milk and sugar, have become the manufacturers of a reliable food for infants and invalids. In order that the medical profession and others interested may know precisely what the condensed milk of this preparation are, a chemical analysis is printed upon the label of every can. Persons interested are invited to try this article and compare the results with those obtained from other foods. The advantages offered by the Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk are:—It is a reliable food for infants and invalids, and is a scientific preparation upon a large scale, thus assuring superior quality at a reasonable price. The analysis is as follows:—

BRIEF.

New Terrible Famine is Taking Possession of the American People.

It is generally conceded that the use of brass instruments has greatly increased in this country during the last few years. Few persons, however, have any idea of the appalling progress which this terrible vice has made.

The probable damage in the whole country without its limit, and the less player on the cornet, while the number of those who are addicted to brass instruments, either openly and to an extent which they call "moderate," or secretly and to a limited extent, is estimated by trustworthy statisticians to amount to fully three per cent. of our adult population.

In comparison with these figures the extent of drunkenness becomes insignificant and opium eating hardly deserves notice.

To the demoralization caused by the civil war is doubtless due much of this giant evil. In the camp and the field men were brought in familiar contact with the bugle, the cornet, trombone, and tuba. The natural horror which a pure-minded man feels in witnessing the sound of brass instruments is thereby destroyed. The ears of our soldiers have become accustomed to the deafening noise, and from listening with indifference to the abuse of brass by others, it was an easy step for them to adopt the habit themselves. The bugle brought this home with him, and as the bugle is in his home and on the street, the bugle is in his mind, and the bugle is in his hand.

The ruined merchant or the unemployed man, who has lost his heart and tried to forget his wretchedness by drowning his senses with the cornet or trombone. Lastly, we must notice the pernicious influence of those unhappy men, the "brass band" players, and similar fellows, who have been made to minister to a depraved taste for brass, and have made the vice popular and even fashionable.

It is not necessary to take the extreme ground and say that certain families, that the use of brass instruments is in all cases wrong. The artist's spirit, brass has its uses, and a brass instrument may be played in such a way and at such a time as to render it not only harmless but beneficial. The use of brass instruments is commonly called by the degrading name of amateurs, there can, however, be no difference of opinion. They work far greater injury than the coarse and maddening accordion and banjo. The latter are used only by the lowest class of the community, but the cornet invades our homes, and the trombone counts among its victims the noblest and best men in the nation. In this, as in the case of the other instruments, the use of brass instruments is steadily downward. Many a man has fancied that he could safely blow a few notes on the regulation bugle. The horrible thirst for brass, however, once formed, constantly increases. Before very long the bugle is laid aside, and the cornet takes its place. At first the cornet is played at home, and in the privacy of closed doors and windows, but as the later hours of shame, and is often his front piazza or heard at his front window openly practicing the "Mabel Waltz."

In many cases he finds the cornet in its turn too tame to satisfy his unwholy thirst, and he takes the destroying trombone to his lips. This is no mere picture of the imagination. There are scores of confirmed trombone players. Hired for day after day, they play the cornet, and the comparatively harmless bugle, or with a "moderate" indulgence on the cornet.

The time has come when good men should everywhere join in an organized effort to stem the tide of brass which threatens to overwhelm our beloved land. We must demand a strict law regulating the use of brass instruments, and a "civil damage" law, making the vendor of brass instruments and the amateur player thereon liable, jointly and severally, for all the damages to property and persons which may result from the use of any variety of brass instruments. Persons found guilty of playing the cornet should be punished with fine and imprisonment, and it should be made lawful for any magistrate to commit a confirmed brass player to the workhouse, and to appoint a receiver and administrator of his property. Books, tracts, and lectures on the evils of brass instruments should be employed to develop a healthy public sentiment, and the young should be induced to join societies, pledged to total abstinence from brass in every form. But there must be no delay. The evil must be met by legal methods now, or we must be prepared to see the shops of instruments mobbed by maddened women, and cornet and trombone players shot by infuriated men, whose wrongs have mastered and slain their patience and their law-abiding instincts.

SHOPIRE.

—Eugene Dixon, who spent his boyhood days in our village, was visiting his friends here last week. He is now conductor of the Milwaukee division of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

—The entertainment given in the chapel of the Congregational church, last Wednesday evening, was a very fine one, and a success. The soloists were Mary Oliver as "Mrs. Jarley," exhibited her "Wax Figures" in splendid style, and all present were pleased with the address of "Mrs. Jarley," as she presented the different specimens which she had to offer. The soloists were also, song by Miss Oliver in connection with the album, "Auld Robin Gray." More of these entertainments may be expected in the future.

been put up to keep the frost out and it was rather overdoing the matter.

—Ed. Case and H. Sweet are on the convalescent list. Ed. says he don't care about having any more chills this cold weather.

—Quite a number of our people are going about with hands and necks done up, entertaining one or more of those "comforters," which make one feel good.

—Mr. James Haggart has lost several head of cattle from eating the smut in corn stalks. Mr. Van Gilder has lost several head from the same cause. Farmers would do well to gather these smut ears of corn when husking, if they intend to turn in their stock.

—Mr. Lyman Sweet returned to Chicago Monday morning, having been out to visit his father who has been very sick.

—The escaping gas from a coal stove came very near being too much for some of the Weirick family, one night last week.

Hon. Wm. Taylor, Boston, is well again. Completely cured of a sore throat which poisoned his blood, cured by his face and head with sores, by Cuticura Resolvent internally and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally.

Chas. Kaye Hinkle, Jersey City Heights, N. J., reports that his son, a lad of twelve years, was completely cured of a terrible case of Eczema by the Cuticura Remedies. From his head to his feet was one mass of sores.

A Strange Ocular Discovery.

Prof. Benjamin C. Merrill, of Milwaukee, has been pursuing a series of experiments, endeavoring to make the natural eye do the work of the telescope and microscope, namely, magnifying the size of the object to be viewed. He argues that the telescope and microscope are clumsy apparatus compared with his plan for accomplishing their work. He alludes to the well-known fact that near-sighted people have protuberant and globular-shaped eyeballs, while the far-sighted have eye-balls with flattened surfaces. Acting upon this suggestion of nature, Prof. Merrill has conceived the idea that the eye can be rounded or flattened at will, and thus increase the focal distance and do the work of the telescope. Accordingly, he constructed an instrument composed of two small metal discs perforated with exceedingly fine holes, which he placed over the eye and fastened it with a band around the head. The discs were pressed on the eyeballs by tightening the band with an adjustable screw which flattened the eyeballs, thus throwing the focus to a greater distance. The discs being finely perforated, the eyes are enabled to look through precisely as they can look through a veil. The Professor met with astonishing results from his experiments.

As fast as he turned the screw the telescope, as we use this term in order to give the idea clearly, power of the eye was increased. With two turns of the screw he was enabled to read a newspaper twenty rods distant! And with six turns he could, at night, see the moons of Jupiter and the rings of Saturn.

This marvelous experiment brings to mind the statement of an acquaintance made to us years ago, in which he said he could see a sail vessel on the lake when no one else could see it, and that the moon appeared to him to be ten feet in diameter, showing that his eyeballs were more flattened than ordinary.

Prof. Merrill has not made any experiment as yet to make the eye do the work of the microscope, which can only be done by reversing the operation and rounding the eyeball. This, he thinks, can be done. If his discovery can be made of practical use it will produce wonderful results. But there is the unpleasantness of having perforated discs pressing on the bare surface of the eye, which may prevent the discovery from being of practical benefit. Imagine a General of an army standing on an elevated position, with a pair of these perforated discs strapped directly on his eyeballs, directing the movements of his army in the far distance. It should be a very happy thing for the time being. Then, there is the danger of injuring the eyeballs by producing inflammation.

Household Felicit.

Under this head the Boston Journal of Chemistry names several dangerous substances which find their way into households. There are two or three volatile liquids used in families which are particularly dangerous, and must be employed, if at all, with special care. Benzine, ether and strong ammonia constitute the class of agents. The two first are commonly employed in cleaning and in removing oil stains from carpets, curtains, etc. The liquids are highly volatile, and flash into vapor as soon as the cork of the tin containing them is removed. Their vapors are very combustible and will inflame at long distances from ignited candles or gas flames, and consequently they should never be used in the kitchen, or near a fire, or lighted.

Explorations of a very dangerous nature will occur if the vapor of these liquids is permitted to escape into the room in considerable quantity. In view of the great hazard of handling these liquids cautious housekeepers will not allow them to be brought into their dwellings, and this course is commendable. As regards ammonia, or water of ammonia, it is a very powerful agent, especially the strongest kind sold by druggists, and is used in its use has recently come under our notice in which a young lady lost her life from taking a few drops through mistake. Breathing the gas under certain circumstances causes serious harm to the lungs and membranes of the mouth and nose. It is an agent much used at the present time for cleaning purposes, and is unquestionable if proper care is used it is employed in the household. It should be kept apart from other containing medicines, etc., and rubber stoppers to the vessels should be used. Oxalic acid is considerably employed in families for cleaning brass and copper utensils. This substance is highly poisonous, and must be kept and used with great caution. In crystalline structure it closely resembles sulphate of sodium, or Epsom salts, and therefore, frequent mistake are made and lives lost. Every agent which is made into families, among inexperienced persons, should be kept in a safe place, labeled properly, and used with care.

Hemorrhaged Again.

I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife, who was always doctored, and never well, teased me so much to get her some I concluded to be humbugged again and I did, for in less than two months' use of the Bitters my wife was cured, and she has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T. St. Paul.

RECEIVED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for its attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876, I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and strength. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time a report was made around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when, to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My appetite once began to revive, and today I feel like a better man than I have the past three years.

"I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with Disordered Lungs will be induced to take DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS. I am cured, and am convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I have taken two bottles, and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared, and I shall soon be able to go to work." Sold by druggists.

—Asa Weaver and wife accompanied by Mrs. G. R. Thompson of Janesville, took the east bound train Tuesday for an eastern trip. They will visit Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, New York and other eastern points, and return via St. Louis.

The Philomathean society will hold their rhetorical contest at College chapel Saturday evening. Prizes amounting to $20 in cash will be awarded to the successful contestants, and we bespeak a liberal patronage of our citizens. Admission 25 cents. Exercises will begin at 7.50.

—This station is now provided with a night operator, and passengers on the night trains can get their baggage checked. Our conductor, who has been in the night office at Milton Junction, is the light of friends and boyhood scenes in the Empire State. He has our best wishes for a pleasant trip.

Economy.

A fortune may be spent in using ineffectual medicines, when by applying THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL a speedy and economical cure can be effected. In cases of rheumatism, lame back, bodily ailments, or pains of every description, it affords instant relief.

RIEFLETS.

—No Gazette to-morrow.

—Remember the dancing school to-night.

—The churches are beginning to plan many Christmas doings.

—The gobbler have gobbled their last gobble, and are now being gobbled by gobbler.

—The circuit court adjourned this noon until Friday morning, when the Fonda-Stineal case will be put on trial.

—Janesville is getting to be quite a railroad center. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road alone has eighteen trains arrive within eighteen hours.

—The Guards drill to-night, it being their last chance to put on the finishing touches before they appear at the formal opening of their armory, Friday night.

—All who want to enjoy Thanksgiving eve should go to Cannon's hall to-night and join in the merry dance to be given by the Rescue Hook and Ladder company.

—The Babes in the Woods to be given to-morrow afternoon at the Opera house is so full of fun that the laughter induced will prove a happy settling of the big dinners which are to be indulged in to-morrow.

—Prof. Sovereign writes that owing to a change in the railway time table he will be unable to reach Janesville at the usual hour, and therefore cannot meet his afternoon class until 6 o'clock.

—The afternoon a horse belonging to Mr. Palmer, who has just begun the drying business here, took a run from Mr. Smiley's, in the First ward, down onto Milwaukee street. A stove which was on the day was somewhat wrecked.

—Evangelist! Who has not heard of Rice's Evangelist? Those who have seen it will be among those most anxious to see it to-morrow evening. Those who have not seen it will surely be anxious, for the fame of this burlesque has spread far and near.

—Miss Amanda Wheeler has secured the agency for a very interesting and instructive book entitled "Progressive Age," which narrates many of the triumphs of science, and the progress of history and literature. She will call upon our citizens and let the work speak its own merits.

—Chairman J. C. Metcalf, of the County Board of Supervisors, last evening signed the orders in payment of the bills allowed by the committee on claims, so those concerned can get their money in time for Thanksgiving expenses. The claims thus paid by order of the Board at its recent meeting amount to $10,713.57.

—In the case of Collins vs. Russell & Snob, before Judge Patten, a judgment was given for $75 in Collins' favor. Collins claims that he did not receive as much as he ought to have had from the amount of case which he worked up. It is understood that an appeal will be taken.

—The new line to Chicago opened by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company, from Janesville, via Beloit and Rockford, begins with a lively business. Last night there were twenty-nine carloads of stock shipped from here over the new line, the stock coming from west of here. Besides the regular train a special had to be put on to accommodate the rush of freight.

—The mystery surrounding the sudden disappearance of Peter Foster, of Shirland, is now explained. It will be remembered that he went to Beloit and there sold a load of oats, left his team in a livery stable, and disappeared. It now appears that he is paying a visit to his mother, in New York State, from whence he writes back to friends not to worry about him, as he will come back soon.

—Thomas Mackin was on trial this morning before Judge Patten for selling liquor on Sunday, but was discharged, the evidence failing to show that what he sold was intoxicating. One witness testified to drinking something there, but thought it was Milwaukee pop, though his head was too muddled for him to tell with certainty. By any other name it might make a man drunk just as quick.

—G. C. McLean has returned from the East where he has been purchasing machinery for the new McLean Manufacturing company's woolen mill. He bought the very best machinery to be had, and with all the latest improvements, so that the mill will be a model one, and second to none. The cards are of Cleveland's make, Worcester, Mass., the mule is made by Johnston & Bassett, of the same place. Those familiar with machinery of this kind will need no further assurance of its being the best. Other machinery was bought at North Andover, Mass., Ansonia, Conn., Hartford, Conn., and Lawrence, Mass., thus getting here and there the best of each. Mr. McLean was accompanied by R. R. Street, of Chicago, a brother of Attorney Street, of this city.

—James Heffron, of this city, a brakeman on the Chicago & Northwestern road, had two fingers of his right hand badly smashed at Clinton last night while coupling cars.

—The seats are selling rapidly for Rice's Evangelist, to-morrow evening, and for the "Babes in the Wood" matinee.

—The ladies of Christ church have arranged to hold their "Christmas Market" in the Guards' armory beginning December 5.

—Rev. Dr. Vincent who is to soon hold a Sunday school congress in this city, will visit Milwaukee just before coming here, and there deliver a lecture. His friends and admirers there are so enthusiastic over him and his work, that they are preparing to give him a reception at the close of his lecture. His lecture here is to be on "That Boy." In Milwaukee he is to lecture on "That Boy's Sister." It is too bad that he cannot give the latter lecture here also. The girls ought surely to have their pictures taken as well as the boys.

—The remains of the late Gordon Leonard arrived last evening from Florida, and were this morning laid at rest in Oak Hill cemetery. The funeral services were held at the family residence on South Main street, and were conducted by Rev. Mr. Loomis, of Lone Rock, Wis., who made some very tender and thoughtful remarks. Appropriate music was given by Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Frieland, and Mrs. C. B. Conrad. The pall bearers were S. P. Hoskins, S. Heinemann, David Fifield, Giles Fisher, Volney Atwood and Jesse Miles. A goodly number of friends were in attendance, and followed the remains to their place of interment.

—While the Janesville militia men continue to prosper, and to work harmoniously for mutual improvement, the companies in some other parts of the State are meeting with trouble. The Eau Claire company has disbanded, and now comes word that the Garfield Guards, of Racine, are in a queer muddle. Their captain expressed his determination to resign, on account of too much other business, and the company without waiting for him to have his resignation formally accepted by the Governor, elected another captain. Captain Smith, by request of many citizens, has concluded now not to resign, and now the company has two captains. None can tell what the end will be.

THANKS AND GIVING.

How To-morrow is To be Observed in This City.

To-morrow is the day set apart for Thanksgiving, and preparations are being made for its due observance here. This religious festival is a veteran, and dates back into the early history of the pilgrim fathers. It has slowly crept into popular favor, at first being chiefly fostered in the New England States, then reaching slowly westward, and branching out even to the southward, until in 1862 it assumed the importance of a national institution. Its religious tinge is well expressed by the lamented Holman, who little thought at his observance of the day last year that this Thanksgiving would find him in that mysterious sphere of new activities, which we call eternity. He gave pleasing voice to the religious side of the day, when he penned:

"Here on this blessed Thanksgiving night,
We rise to Thee our grateful praise,
For what Thou dost, Lord, is right,
And thus Thee, we rejoice,
The more common and popular expression of rejoicing is not, however, in such a song. Everybody cannot voice their thanks in poetry, but everybody can feast, and in the feasting all can and do as far as possible observe the day. There are many, however, who cannot feast, the struggle for life leaving little margin for such pleasure. A very practical way of showing a due appreciation of the day is to put the giving before the thanks. There are in this city many who can help, and many who need help. To many to-morrow will prove a day of fasting and prayer, instead of feasting and prayer, and those who are thinking of feasting should think first of those who are fasting. The best possible appetizer for the enjoyment of a well spread table to-morrow, is to first spread well some table which seldom knows what it is to be loaded. The sincerity of thanks is justly gauged by the generosity of the giving.

The day is not to be spent altogether, however, in sampling the products of the kitchen range. There will be appropriate public religious services at several of the churches, and a number of opportunities for amusement and social recreation.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

A union service is to be held at the Baptist church to-morrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at which Rev. D. J. Holmes will preach a sermon appropriate to the day.

At Trinity Episcopal church at 10:30 o'clock will be held a service appropriate to the occasion.

At Christ Episcopal church there will also be appropriate services at the same hour.

PLACES FOR PLEASURE.

To-morrow afternoon and evening at the opera house Rice's Evangelist company will appear. At the matinee, which opens at 2:30 o'clock, the burlesque opera, "The Babes in the Woods" will be given, and in the evening "Evangelist."

Woodruff's glass blowers also promise much pleasure as well as a present to everyone who visits them in their location opposite the Gazette office on Main street, where they will hold exhibition, in the afternoon and evening.

Thanksgiving eve will be happily observed to-night by a dance at Cannon's hall given by the Rescue Hook and Ladder company. This promises to be a most enjoyable ushering in of the day's festivities.

Catarhal Poison.

Catarhal poisons the mucous membrane, poisons the blood and the vital fluids, poisons the lungs, liver and kidneys. From a simple cold to the rotting, sloughing and death of the senses of smell, taste and hearing, Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarhal is supreme. Complete treatment $1.

Death to rats and vermin, Parson's Exterminator.

BRACE UP.—No excuse for that round shouldered, awkward figure, when all styles and sizes of Shoulder Braces are sold so cheap at Prentice & Evenson's drugstore. Ladies' Braces a specialty. Perfect fit guaranteed.

The best advice to Catarhal sufferers—write Dr. C. R. Sykes, 189 Madison St., Chicago, for full information of a Sure Cure—Free.

BOTH FOUND GUILTY.

The Racine criminals who took a change of venue to this county at this term of the court, have not met with good luck. Michael Egan, who was on trial yesterday for horse-stealing, had his case given to the jury this morning, and after a retirement of about five minutes, they brought in a verdict of guilty. A motion for a new trial was entered.

George F. McCloud, from the same county, was tried this morning for uttering a forged note. Said note was for $30, to which his father-in-law's name was signed, and it was shown that McCloud had admitted that his wife signed her father's name to the note. He had disposed of the note, and the man who bought it was the complaining witness. District Attorney Cooper, of Racine, presented, and Attorney Shields, of the firm of Payne & Salsola, Racine, defended. The jury speedily brought in a verdict of guilty, and the usual motion for a new trial was entered.

"THE STORY OF THE BOOK."

Listening Rev. Frank P. Woodbury gave his lecture on the above subject, at the Congregational church. The audience was quite large, in fact there were more listeners than greeted him on the delivery of the preceding lecture. Mr. Woodbury held the attention of all closely, and while the lecture was fairly crowded with historical facts and valuable information concerning the Bible, these were so presented as to form a fascinating entertainment. His narration of the discovering and the preservation of many of the ancient scripture manuscripts, was thrilling. He is an earnest speaker, graphic in his description, and elegant in his diction. The lecture was richly illustrated by large paintings, which added much to the interest, and aided the memory greatly in carrying away many of the valuable facts and thoughts presented. There are four more lectures in the course, the next of which will be given on Monday evening of next week. Judging by the increasing interest he is awakening a packed house may be looked for then. These lectures are surely too good to be missed.

PERSONAL.

—Rev. Father Manich has gone to Whitewater, to participate in the Jubilee being held there, but will return in time for services at St. Mary's church to-morrow.

—Congressman L. B. Caswell passed through the city yesterday, remaining here but a short time, and arriving on toward Washington via Milwaukee.

—Mrs. Phil Mitchell, of Rock Island, Ill., is in the city on a visit to her mother and friends.

—Hon. James Root, the well known Chicago attorney, was in the city to-day.

—F. W. Bruce, clerk of the circuit court for Racine county, was in the city to-day, as a witness in the McCloud forgery case.

—Prof. Beach, of Beloit, is said to have been offered an increase of $500 in salary if he would accept a professorship in the normal school at Oskosh, but declined the same, preferring to continue his supervision of the Beloit schools.

—Winfield Scott, the Beloit artist and caricaturist, whose skill with pencil and brush is well known, and whose humorous touchings up of political situations has made many merry, has gone to Milwaukee to take charge of the painting department of Parker & Dennett's reaper works, now located there.

—Postoffice Inspector J. D. King is at home again.

—Colonel Johnson and family, of Beloit, have gone to Atlanta and other points of interest in the south, on an extended trip.

—Dr. Q. O. Sutherland is temporarily laid off duty, by overwork and exhaustion, from which it is hoped and expected he will speedily rally. The report that he has the varioloid is simply nonsense.

—Mr. J. H. Smith, nephew of Mr. John Watson, left this afternoon for Galena, Illinois, where he is employed by the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company to build a bridge.

The Country.

Who that has ever lived any time in the country must have heard of the virtues of Burdock as a blood purifier. Burdock Blood Bitters cure dyspepsia, biliousness and all disorders arising from impure blood or deranged liver or kidneys. Price $1.00, trial bottles 10 cents. Sold by A. J. Roberts, and Shor & Co.

Ask your druggist for "Dr. Sykes' Sure Cure for Catarrh." Don't take any other.

PICK YOUR PRESENTS.

We to-day took a glance at some of the many beautiful holiday goods which F. S. Lawrence & Co., have gathered for their customers. Their stock is one of the largest and richest ever seen in this city, and one can find in it many novelties and rich gifts, by which to make their friends happy during the approaching holidays. There are some very nice sets of books, Dickens and the Waverley novels, encyclopedias, choice editions of all the standard works, illustrated books, and juvenile books without number. There are fancy Bibles, and prayer books. Then, too, in the line of pictures there is a pleasing variety. Elegant toilet sets and trinkets, opera glasses, smoking sets, bronzes and figures, and in autograph and photograph albums there is an endless variety, and an immense stock. Then there are gold pens, in pearl, ivory, and gold cases, there are pocket-books and shopping bags of rare beauty, stereoscopes and views, most beautiful Christmas cards, and a bewildering of elegant and unique frames and casels. The eye is caught, too, by a brilliant display of toilet mirrors in velvet and ebony. Then to add to the astonishment they tell us to call again in a few days, and see a still further stock of novelties and beauties now on the way from New York. The firm have certainly done themselves and the city credit in providing such a display from which to select gifts.

NEARLY ALL THE ILLS THAT AFFLICT MANKIND can be prevented and cured by keeping the stomach, liver and kidneys in perfect working order. There is no more certain way to do this than to take quickly and surely, without interfering with your duties as Parker's Ginger Tonic. See advertisement.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 1 o'clock A. M. to-day, at 35 degrees above; at 7 o'clock A. M., at 20 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock P. M. at 20 degrees above. Partly cloudy.

The indications to-day are, increasing cloudiness, and light snow, southwest to northwest with falling barometer during the night by colder weather and rising barometer to-day.

CHAMBERS' SKINS and vests can be found at W. M. Eldredge's Empire drug store, No. 27 North Main street. These chamber skin vests are just what it needed for the cold weather. Ladies' vests also on hand.

WANTED, by a gentleman, who is a farmer, a woman to keep house for him, one who is accustomed to doing work on a farm preferred, and to such good wages and a good home will be given, best of reference given and required; for further particulars call at Gazette office, or address box 1000, Janesville Wis.

A World of Good.

One of the most popular medicines now before the American public is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters as it is not a whisky drink. It is more like the old fashioned bone set tea that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right try Hop Bitters.—Nash & Sons.

Send for circular of new style of Hop Bitters, with leaving attachment, Borden, Sellick & Co., Chicago.
